

PROHIBITION.

What Has Been Done in the Great States of Tennessee and Texas in the Past Twelve Months.

OTHER STATES FALLING IN LINE.

Tennessee has come to be one of the "driest" States in the Union, the campaign prosecuted by the Anti-Saloon League in that State having prospered so that whisky may now be sold legally in but twelve of the ninety-six counties of the State. It is interesting to note that the president of the league is the Rev. Edgar E. Folk, editor of the Baptist and Reflector, of Nashville, who is a brother of Joseph W. Folk, the St. Louis Circuit Attorney, the terror of the bootleggers in Missouri. The Rev. Ira Landreth, editor of the Cumberland Presbyterian, of Nashville, is the secretary of the league, and to the efforts of these two men, assisted by the Rev. John Roy Harris, now of Pittsburg, P. A., is due the temperance legislation in the State, which was extended at the last session of the legislature so that saloons now exist in but sixteen towns in the State.

The law in Tennessee is called the "four-mile" law, and provides that liquors shall not be sold within four miles of a church building or a school house, except in towns of more than 5,000 inhabitants. The few towns under 5,000 which now have saloons were incorporated before the passage of the law and have charters which cannot be interfered with.

About sixty towns surrendered charters giving them the right to grant retail liquor licenses, and were reincorporated under the provisions of the "four-mile" law.

The "wet" counties remaining in Tennessee, as shown by the map published by the Tennessee Anti-Saloon League, are: Shelby, Madison, Chester, Murray, Davidson, Moore, Franklin, Hamilton, Campbell, Knox, Sullivan and Union. It is remarkable that the two counties in the State which are famous for whisky making, Lincoln and Robertson, are now both "dry."

A tidal wave of prohibition is also sweeping over Texas. Of the 246 counties in the Lone Star State, 190 have voted total prohibition, fifty others have partial prohibition, leaving fifty-seven counties only in which liquor is sold without restriction. Several large counties are to vote on the question in the next thirty days. Gov. Lanham is a strong prohibitionist and is expected to help in the movement for a prohibition legislature next year.

In our own State nine-tenths of the 119 counties have sweeping prohibition laws. About us, here in Jackson's Purchase the counties of Carlisle, Fulton, Graves and Hickman are heretofore dry and it only remains, we think, for the county seat of Ballard to purge itself, then all will be on the rising ground north of us to the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers.

As the use of liquor decreases the status of our manhood and womanhood increases physically, mentally, morally and financially.

EARLINGTON'S

Fine New Public School Building Completed.

Saturday's Courier-Journal contained a fine illustration of the handsome new school building that has been completed at this place, with the following notice:

"This handsome new school building, just completed, will be occupied by the Earlington public school at the fall term. The cost of the building was $17,000. It is well equipped with the fan heating system, slate blackboards, single desks, etc., and is a modern and a model school building of eight rooms and a large auditorium. The Earlington public school has been taught for nine months in the year for many years. The trustees under whose administration the new house has been built and equipped are Paul M. Moore, chairman; Dan M. Evans and William P. Burr. Miss Minnie Bourland, of Earlington, is the principal."

Stay in the South.

Men who leave the South today in the hope of bettering themselves are acting directly contrary to common sense, and are reversing the rule which is becoming more and more effective—the rule of seeking the best opportunities in farming. In the troublous times of twenty-five or thirty years ago it is not surprising that thousands of young men left their native States in the South. At that time the door of opportunity might have appeared to be closed forever. But conditions have radically changed. Now not only are there hundreds of opportunities where there was but one twenty-five years ago, but the chance to make opportunities has led the young men of the South seek that chance at home before they give heed to fairy tales about other sections.—Southern Farm Magazine of Baltimore for August.

Finds a Cave Full of Ice.

Harrison Martin, a carpenter, has discovered a cave in Pocahontas county containing an inexhaustible supply of ice. By what strange freak of nature the ice was formed in the cave is not yet explained. Martin has built a passageway from the mouth of the cave, which is high on the side of a rugged hill, and is marketing the ice over many miles of territory.

Martin was prospecting about in an aimless way when he saw the hole in the side of the hill. The opening interested him so that he decided to investigate. He let himself down to it by a rope from some trees above and on entering was astonished to find himself in a vast hall piled high with irregular blocks of ice. The ice pile extended as far as he could see, and is sufficient for the needs of a big city for a whole summer.—Richmond Telegram to the New York World.

The Sea and Mining.

The sea and the seaside are fraught with suggestions to the miner or mining engineer. Along the coasts and seaside beaches are to be seen those phenomena which throw light upon many puzzles and interesting features met with in the miner's profession. The miner deals much with rocks, they are his environment. By the seaside he witnesses the great manufacture of these same rocks in progress, and sees the great manufacturer at work.—Extract from August Mines and Minerals.

TOOK POISON.

WITH SUICIDAL INTENT.

Did Not Care to Live Longer and Took Laudanum to End His Trouble. Girl Did Not Love Him.

Crazed with care and crossed in hopeless love Brack Cole, a miner living at Hecla, took an ounce of laudanum Monday morning with suicidal intent. He purchased the drug from the St. Bernard drug store, telling the clerk he was suffering severely from cramping. He then left the store and was absent only a short time before he returned and told Clerk Trahern he had taken all the laudanum the bottle contained and asked if he could not give him some medicine that would counteract the effect of the laudanum. Mr. Trahern told him Dr. Johnson was in the office, only a short distance away, and advised him to see him, which he did. After laboring with him for some time Dr. Johnson was able, by the use of emetics and a stomach pump, to save the man's life.

It was learned later that Cole was in love with some young lady here and asked her to marry him, which she refused to do. This, coupled with ill health and sickness, brought on a state of despondency that caused him to attempt to take his life. Mr. Cole is a widower with one child and comes of a good family near Lisman. His relatives were notified of his rash action.

What P. C. Means.

Under the caption of "Two Interpretations," the Cincinnati Times-Star says: "A young farmer who had been converted at one of the revivals went before the next conference and asked for a license to be a preacher. 'I know I am bound to preach the word,' said the applicant, 'for I had three visions, all the same, and it has made a lasting impression upon me.'—What was your vision?" asked the bishop. "Well, I saw a big blue ring in the sky, and inside, in big gold letters, were 'P. C.' It meant 'Peach Christ' and I want to join the conference." The argument was about to carry, when an old pastor stood up in the back part of the hall and said: "Young man, we don't doubt your intentions, nor do we doubt that you saw the visions with the golden 'P. C.' but I am of the opinion that 'P. C.' meant 'Plover Corn.' The convert is still a farmer."

Whose Widow Is She?

When a man dies and the widow marries again, and the second husband dies, whose widow is she—of the first or second husband, or both? That was the question recently before the pension authorities at Washington. The widow of a federal soldier was drawing a pension as such a widow. She married again and the pension stopped. Then the second husband died and the widow made application for reinstatement as the widow of the first husband, and the claim was allowed. Consequently, under the ruling, a soldier's wife is not the widow of any but her first husband.

Gun Club Shoot.

PROVIDENCE COAL COMPANY

Changes Hands.—Mr. E. B. Hayden Purchases Controlling Interest.

Mr. E. B. Hayden, of Kansas City, Mo., has purchased the stock held by H. H. Holeman, of Madisonville, in the Providence Coal Co., of Providence.

For years Mr. Hayden has held fifty per cent. of the stock of the company, the remainder of the stock being held by H. A. Nisbet, C. J. Pratt, Cotton & Ramsey and H. H. Holeman, all of this city. The purchase of Mr. Holeman's stock gives Mr. Hayden the controlling interest of the property and it is rumored that a change will take place in the management of the corporation at the next election of officers to be held in a few days. A meeting of the directors was held yesterday but we failed to learn the proceedings. Mr. W. J. Nisbet has been general manager for the past few years.

Kentucky Will Raise Tobacco for Cigar and Cigarette Wrappers.

Kentucky is the first state west of the Appalachian range of mountains to try the experiment of raising tobacco to be used for cigarette wrappers.

There is only one place in Kentucky where this kind of tobacco is in cultivation. This place is in Harrison county, on J. W. Stump's farm two miles from Cynthia.

One acre of ground is enclosed in frame work nine feet high. The top and sides of this frame work are covered with white canvas. The cost of the enclosure was $485, the canvas alone costing nearly $400.

On entering this enclosure one is impressed with the beauty of the scene. The first thought is what a beautiful conservatory of foliage. Each stalk is the facsimile of every other stalk in the entire acre.

The shade of green of the weed is a beautiful and restful color to the eye. Only once has it ever rained on it, but still it shows wonderful vigor and rapid growth. The success of the experiment is assured now. In a few years we predict this will be the common way of cultivating tobacco in Kentucky.

Had to Pay for His Paper.

People who allow newspapers to come to their address, year after year, taking them from the postoffice, and reading them, and then refusing to pay for them, are respectfully referred to the following dispatch, which appeared in Wednesday's Courier-Journal: Henry C. Mooney, a Knox county farmer, took the Vincennes Capital out of the postoffice regularly, but he refused to pay for it, claiming he had never subscribed for the paper. Editor George Cook filed suit, and in court, Judge Houghton awarded the editor judgment and Mooney will have to pay $92 and costs.—Lexington Democrat.

ED WILLIAMS

Shot Over Crap Game by Saint Redford.

Ed Williams and Saint Redford, both colored, became engaged in a quarrel last Thursday night over a crap game. Redford shot Williams in the left side, the ball lodging just under the skin of the right side, passing entirely through the body. It was at first thought Williams would die but he seems to be improving slightly and the probability is that he will recover. Redford was promptly arrested and placed in Madisonville jail.

GOOD ONE

On Kentucky Editors—Canadians Thought They Would Celebrate Too Lively.

THE RESULT WAS A FROST.

Tuesday's Times says: The Kentucky editors, who returned from their annual trip this morning, are telling of an icy reception tendered them upon their arrival at Moskau Lake, Canada, in the heart of the beautiful Canadian scenery, where the people are the merriest and the beverages the most inviting. It all came about because some one spread the news that the Kentucky editors would celebrate their arrival in the town in true native style. When they set foot in the city they found all the saloons closed, the hotels darkened and all the guests retired. Not even a band was at the train to meet them and not a sign of hospitality was visible. The editors wended their way to the hotel and got lodging, but were told they would not get their usual beverage. They left the next day without ever getting acquainted with the natives, who seemed only too glad to get rid of their guests.

ROUND OF PLEASURE.

But, withal, the editors tell tales of a merry outing and pronounce the trip one of the best and most instructive they have ever taken. They visited Quebec. There they went to the Falls of Montmorency, whose height is 100 feet above that of Niagara Falls. Montreal, the most beautiful residence city in North America, was visited, and the editors were given a hearty reception by the citizens. From there they went to Toronto, where hospitality was lavished upon them with equally as good cheer.

At Portland, Me., the editors were elegantly entertained by Col. Dow, editor of the Portland Express, who dined them on clams and lobsters. At Battle Creek, Mich., they spent many happy hours, and had the thrilling experience of shooting the rapids of the St. Lawrence.

LADIES ADMIRER.

Col. Harry Sommers, who was much in evidence during the trip, says that the ladies of the party received compliments wherever they went and won the admiration of all. Col. Sommers says they deserved the praise, as they possessed the beauty that makes Kentucky women famous and formed the prettiest lot of women on any Kentucky Press Association trip.

Mr. Paul Moore, president of the association, presented every woman on the trip with a handsome bouquet of flowers through Col. Sommers, Mr. Moore not being able to make the trip.

Several of the editors remained over in Chicago today, and will return home tonight or tomorrow.

Hopkins County Fair.

The great Hopkins county fair is now going on and is attended by large crowds daily. It is reported by those who have attended to be better than ever this year. The Wild West Show is said to be a very attractive feature and is well worth the price of admission if there were nothing else to be seen. Today is Earlington day and a great many of our people will avail themselves of the opportunity to attend.

Most every dog has his day in dog days.

CROFTON SENSATION.

Miss Nora Cavanaugh Hunts Lover With a Pistol But Fails to Find Him.

The little town of Crofton has had a social sensation for several days, in which Miss Nora Cavanaugh has taken the leading part.

The following special from Dayton, Ohio, Saturday, gave the main facts:

"The authorities have taken into custody Miss Nora Cavanaugh, of Crofton, Ky., who came here in search of a recreant lover. She appealed to the police for aid, saying she would be willing to work to secure money with which to reach home, the search having failed in the locating of her sweetheart, who was supposed to have gone to Pleasant Hill, Ohio. Upon her return to Dayton it appeared that the girl was losing her mind, and the Infirmary Department took charge of her. When searched at the station house a revolver was found in one of her stockings, and a nominal charge of carrying concealed weapons was placed against her, but will not be pressed. Her relatives were notified and may care for her."

Miss Cavanaugh's brother came to this city Saturday and wired his sister the money to return home, and she arrived here Sunday and returned to her father's home in Hopkins county.

Miss Cavanaugh had lived in Crofton for about a year, making her home recently with Timothy Brown's family.

A young employee of the Empire Coal Co. has been paying attention to her for several months and recently the young man left Empire and it was to search for him that the girl went to his former home in Ohio. She failed to find him.

A WESLEY INCIDENT.

First Methodist Lay Preacher Followed in a Year by Twenty.

The societies met on Sundays, but never at the hour of church service, and when neither Wesley nor any other clergyman was present, spent the hour in prayer and religious conversation or exhortation. From exhortation before the society to formal preaching before it was only a step; but to Wesley it seemed a very long step.

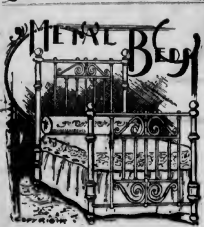

While in Bristol he learned, one day in 1790, that one of his converts, Thomas Maxfield, had been preaching before the Foundry Society. He hurried up to London to stop it, but his mother—who since the death of her husband had been living in a room of the Foundry building—met him with a protest: "John, take care what you do with reference to that young man, for he is as surely called to preach as you are." Admonished by this counsel from one whose caution on all churchly matters he knew to be quite equal to his own, Wesley reluctantly consented to hear Maxfield preach. After listening, he exclaimed: "It is the Lord's doing. Let him do as seemeth to him good." Convinced in spite of deep-rooted dissimulation, he sanctioned the first Methodist lay preacher. Within a year there were twenty.—From C. S. Winchester's "Wesley's Days of Triumph" in the August Century.

H. F. PORTER.

Of Manitou, Nominated for Representative.

The republican executive committee of Hopkins county met at the office of J. B. Harvey in Madisonville Thursday afternoon last and nominated Esq. H. F. Porter, of Manitou, to be their standard-bearer in the race for representative in Hopkins county. Hon. R. R. Graham, who was nominated in the regular convention held July 15, having declined to accept.

Who Has Learned?

Will the dear, long-suffering public ever learn wisdom and prudence and become provident? The long periods of zero-suffering to which a large portion of the public is subjected annually should teach a lesson, and the people should rise in their might and change the worn, old adage about hay to read:

Get Coal While.... The Sun Shines!

If those who do not live on a coal foundation had filled their coal bins and coal houses liberally the weather, when coal and hauling is cheap and the roads good, and had not, like the grasshopper, fiddled the summer away without providing against the winter's rigors, they would not have had to dance and burn back fences for warmth during the cold snaps and coal shortages of the past few years, which all remember so well.

St. Bernard Coal

THE WALKING DELEGATE.

The Nashville American has the following to say in its Monday edition which is well worth reproducing:

"Assistant District Attorney Rand, of New York City, in a recent speech declared that the walking delegates in that city are the most successful coin collectors he ever heard of. 'Gentlemen,' said he, 'that is the greatest thing that ever happened. Fifty thousand dollars at a crack to call off strikes that the blackmail might be levied! What's $100 a month from a disorderly house or $200 a month from a gambling establishment compared with this game? Why, had Devery or Diamond or Herlihy known of the possibilities in the game of walking delegates, claims and chains could not have kept them in the police department.'

"The Assistant District Attorney then proceeded to describe the business in detail as gathered from testimony in the court-room. The methods of the walking delegate, the champion of labor, the mouthpiece of the union, is thus described:

"Just look at the proposition. A contractor has a business to construct within a given time. A million dollars or more is involved in the contract. Suddenly, and for no apparent trouble with the laborers, a strike is ordered.

"The contractor, taught by experience, goes to Sam—Jones, the walking delegate, to find out what the matter is. 'Well,' says Sam, 'we're both business men, I take it? Yes? Well, let's get down to business. What's your contract worth? A little over a million, eh? Well, you bring $25,000 here tomorrow morning and you won't be able to see the men get back to work for the dust they'll kick up.'

"'Why, you damned scoundrel!' exclaims the contractor. 'Do you think you can hold me up in this fashion? There'll be skating in hell before I become a party to any such proposition.'

"'All right,' says Sam, 'then you'll wait till hell turns out the North Pole before a man goes back on your job.'

"That's a power for the contractor and finally he offers $22,000. 'All right,' says Sam, 'we're giving you $3,000, but it's all right. You bring the money here tomorrow morning and you mark the bill. Then you go down and tell Jerome. What do you think we care for Jerome? We've got a dozen lawyers that can lick that cigarette fiend out of his boots.' So the money is paid, and the contractor doesn't go to see Jerome.

"The building business in New York was tied up in the busiest season, not because the men were dissatisfied with their wages or hours, but because the unions themselves did not agree and because the walking delegates wanted an opportunity to blackmail. The exposures that have been made will serve to largely destroy the power of the walking delegate in the future."

Don you ever think what a peculiar world is this we live in? It has been said in olden times "One man's meat is another man's poison," and speaking from a newspaper point of view it can be said "what makes one man smile will cause another to swear." Running a newspaper is like wandering through a wide field filled with roses and thorns; when one stops to gather a rose he gathers a thorn also. For instance, when they roast the ungodly the minister smiles; when they roast the minister the sinners laugh; if they roast the tetrals the sinners men sets 'em up; if you swear or bet on a horse race you are the wickedest man in Kentucky, and if you don't you are a hypocrite. The preachers are expected to know how to preach, the doctors how to cure the sick, the lawyers how to help justice, but the newspaper man is expected to know everything under the sun.

The man who has a comfortable home in the country makes the mistake of his life when he comes to town to live unless it is solely for the purpose of giving his children better educational advantages than they can obtain in their own community. Of course if he can acquire a competency from his farm without living on it and is able financially to give his children a finished education, it is pleasant to be near them while at school and keep them under parental guidance. But simply to leave the old home in the country and come to town to make a living is the very acme of folly. Many a man has been convinced of this when it was too late. Farm life has its disadvantages we admit, the labor is hard, the profits meager and uncertain, but with the exercise of ordinary industry and good common sense a comfortable living is assured. Life is peaceful and happy in the country and man is nearer to nature and nature's God and is unassailed by the thousand and one temptations that meet him in the town or city. The man who failed to make a living on a farm will make a worse failure in town; the man who has succeeded in the country has no assurance he will succeed under the new conditions and environments that surround him in town. The farmer is the backbone of America, and Wall street today, with all its millions, is not worth as much to this country as the men who raise hogs and hominy.

Where Your Dollar Goes the Farthest Is the Place for You to Deal.

We understand the reliable firm of Bishop & Co., Madisonville, is doing some tall cutting on their summer dress goods of all grades above 50c a yard regular, all their fancy madras (so desirable for men's and boys' shirts and ladies' and boys' waists), the fancy white goods, all their parasols, and every suit of boys' and youths' clothes they have in their house in order that they may "clean up." All dress goods not of all the year round nature, and to make room for their purchase of boys' and youths' fall and winter suits. Readers of THE BEE should not let this opportunity slip. We are informed these people (Bishop & Co.) are closing their fine 70c silk gingham at 45c and 60c a yard and the "short lengths" of their high grade 50c partly silk mulls, etc., at from 25c to 37 1/2c a yard, saying nothing of their great assortment of 15c, 20c and 25c dimities, batistes, etc., they are closing at 20 percent discount.

Yes, people, if you will go to Madisonville trading, be sure to see what our old friends, Bishop & Co., have in the way of bargains, for, our word for it, they do what they promise to do and nobody in this part of the state carries a complete assortment nor sells at a shorter profit.

SPECIAL RAILROAD EDITION.

The Bee will issue illustrated Number Devoted to Henderson Division L & N.

INTERESTING HISTORIC DATA WILL BE FURNISHED FOR FIRST TIME.

This Bee's special mid-summer railroad edition will be one of the best railroad papers ever issued in Kentucky. In addition to the personal write-ups of the railroad men of the Henderson Division and their half-ton cuts, it will contain views of important railroad buildings along the line, such as the new passenger station at Evansville, the round-houses at Howell and Earlinton, the depot at Earlinton and other places and views of passenger and freight trains. A complete history of the Henderson Division from the time it was surveyed up to the present time, the changes it has undergone and a great deal of interesting railroad data will be given in this edition.

A great many of the men on the division have already subscribed for copies of the mid-summer edition and others are subscribing every day. We wish to make this a thoroughly creditable special edition of THE BEE and want the co-operation of every railroad man on the Henderson Division. It is gotten up in their interest and benefit, and consequently should receive their liberal patronage.

W. F. Sheridan, our recent train master said before he left for Mexico that a railroad paper of this character was worth $5 to any H. D. railroad man now and in the course of time would be worth $20, on account of the personal write-ups of the men if nothing else.

All of the dispatchers, including the chief, several conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen have already signed contracts for copies of the edition. Foreman L. H. O'Brien is a subscriber, as is also Mr. Walsh and Supt. Jno. W. Logsdon, of Evansville. We want every employee of the H. D. to get this edition of THE BEE and feel sure it is well worth the price asked.

A Woman's Complexion.

It is rank foolishness to attempt to remove sallowness or grassiness of the skin by the use of cosmetics, or "local" treatment, as advocated by the "beauty doctors." The only safe and sure way that a woman can improve her complexion is by purifying and enriching the blood, which can only be accomplished by keeping the liver healthy and active. The liver is the seat of disease and blood impurities. Green August Flower acts directly on the liver, cleanses and enriches the blood, purifies the complexion. It also cures constipation, biliousness, nervousness, and induces refreshing sleep. A single bottle of August Flower has been known to cure the most pronounced and distressing cases of dyspepsia and indigestion. New trial size bottle, 25 cents; regular size, 75 cents. At all druggists.

BEST FOR THE BOWELS

If you have a regular, healthy movement of the bowels every day, you will be well. Every year millions of people suffer from constipation. The violent pains or pin pricks, the nervousness, the headache, the dizziness, the loss of sleep, the bloated chest and clogs in the bowels.

Along the Cotton Belt Route, where land can be bought for $2.48, $5 an acre up—cut-over timber land that affords good range for live stock; rich bottom lands for corn, wheat, oats, cotton; uplands for fruits and vegetables—peaches, pears, plums, strawberries, tomatoes, potatoes, onions, melons—finding good markets at Kansas, Mo., and the north on account of excellent qualities and marketing ahead of other sections. A land where living is cheap—lumber at $7 to $8 a thousand, fuel for the cutting, range for the stock nearly the year round, garden truck for the table from March to December. The farmer who pays his high rent in the North, or tills worn out soil in the East, is missing some of the best things of life by not securing a home in the Southwest.

PRESIDENT IMPRISONED.

He Wants Action In the Postal Fraud Cases and Wants It Promptly.

TOO MUCH TIME IS BEING CONSUMED.

Minor Details Are Receiving Too Much Attention While the Big Jobs Are Being Left Unattended—Is the Big Fight the President Would Like to Catch.

New York, Aug. 1.—After a four-hour conference with President Roosevelt, Postmaster-General Payson S. Sargant, returned to his return trip to Washington with a good-sized file in his ear. The Postmaster-General's investigation of the postal fraud department is dragging too much to suit the president, who told Mr. Payne that he wanted results and wanted them quickly.

"Too much time, in the opinion of the president, was being spent on minor details," he said.

A bit of "treasonous life" infused into the investigation would produce, he thinks, the results he desires.

He told the postmaster-general that he gave directions that those conducting the investigation be "bustling." When Mr. Payne reaches Washington he will see to it that the president's wishes are carried into effect.

It is understood to be probable as one of the results of the conference that George W. Beavers, former chief of the salaries and allowance division, who is under indictment in the postal fraud case in the District of Columbia.

Thus far Mr. Beavers has been able to evade actual arrest. In the event of his indictment by the federal grand jury in Washington he will be arrested in New York and taken there, in the District of Columbia it will not be necessary for the government to show its hand in a preliminary hearing.

The president has further indicated to Mr. Payne that he desired the investigation to be as rigid as the ingenuity of the department officials can make it, but he wants no time wasted on inconsequential details.

His post office reform is nearer to the people than any of the great government departments, must be purged absolutely of irregularities and rascals.

A BATCH OF INDICTMENTS.

Several New Indictments Returned By the Federal Grand Jury.

Washington, Aug. 1.—The post office investigation developed another sensation Friday, the federal grand jury returning seven indictments, involving nine people, for alleged conspiracy and bribery in connection with postal affairs. Among the indicted are many years the head of the free delivery service, was indicted jointly with others in four of the indictments.

Others named were William Gordon Crawford, who was deputy auditor for the post office department from June 1, 1902, to September 1, 1903, and is a member of one of the exclusive sets of this city; Leopold J. Stern, of Baltimore; George E. Lorenz, of Toledo, formerly a prominent member of the Martha J. Lorenz, his wife; John T. Cupper, mayor of Lock Haven, Pa.; William C. Long, an Ohio man who has spent much time in this city in recent years and an intimate friend of McGraw; Maurice Runkel, of New York city, and Thomas C. Machen, a protégé of Machen, who was a messenger at the beginning of Machen's administration of the free delivery service and in recent years has been in charge of the supplies for the rural free delivery service.

Crawford voluntarily appeared in court soon after the indictments were returned and furnished $10,000 bail, and McGregor likewise gave $5,000 bail. Long was arrested at his home, Deputy U. S. Marshal Springer found him in bed. He was released on $10,000 bonds. He was the only case in which a bench warrant was issued, owing to the voluntary action of the others indicted.

Machen was not re-arrested under the new indictment, as he gave bonds in $20,000 under his indictment several weeks ago, and the authorities felt this was sufficient to insure his appearance. Warrants have been issued for the out-of-town parties indicted, and their arrest is expected within the next few days.

The grand jury has not completed the work laid before it by the postal investigators, and other indictments may be expected in the near future within a week or two. It is understood that two additional cases against one of the parties indicted, a former prominent bureau official, have been inquired into by the grand jury, and that the acts of another former high official of the post office department, already under indictment by the Brooklyn grand jury are being investigated.

NEGRO ROBERT LEE DEAD.

The Prime Cause of the Recent Riot at Evansville, Ind., Has Succumbed to His Wound.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Aug. 1.—Robert Lee, the negro who shot Policeman Louis Massey, at Evansville, July 29, and started the riot, died in the death and injury of many citizens, died here in prison Friday, from the effects of a wound in the chest caused by a bullet fired by Massey Lee's wife was killed by a train a few days after the riot.

CONVICTS KILL PURSUERS.

Possibilities Engaged in a Fatal Fight and Apparently Have Made a Successful Retreat.

Placerville, Cal., Aug. 3.—The convicts who escaped from Placerville prison are still at large. The five who engaged in a fatal fight with the officers at the Grand Victory mines, Sunday night, have not been seen since, and apparently have made a successful retreat. They are thought to have gotten away from the militia and sheriff's posse they left a water can, several hats and some dreams on the hillside where the conflict occurred.

The dead bodies of Festus Rutherford and W. C. Jones, the two militiamen who were shot by the convicts, were found this morning where they were shot. Jones had served in the Philippines as a member of the First Tennessee and the Thirty-seventh volunteer United States Infantry. Al. Gill, the national guardman who was shot through one lung, is not expected to recover.

The seriously injured are: W. H. Mann, Logansport; leg cut and bruised. George Adworth, Chicago; leg broken. M. L. Balm, Richmond, Ind.; leg shattered. C. H. Frederick, Ridgely, Ind.; leg broken. J. A. Wells, Chicago; leg cut in several places and dislocated. Christopher Gerhart, Chicago; both legs crushed and hurt internally. William J. Wells, Chicago; both legs crushed and shot injured.

F. J. Barrett, Chicago; both legs broken.

George Rowe, Logansport, engineer of freight train; right foot torn and badly bruised.

Ben Palstra, Denver, on his way to jail; leg bruised.

John K. Kling, Logansport; conductor; leg broken and foot bruised.

George Galtwin, Chicago; bruised and cut and back sprained.

E. W. Snyder, Logansport; foot crushed.

W. A. Rummel, Logansport; leg bruised.

Ephraim Whistler, Logansport; leg badly bruised and left side bruised.

Richard Haver, Knoxville; leg broken and foot crushed.

In addition to the above list of injured, five or six others were cut and bruised, but their wounds are not serious.

An accident happened opposite the Cleveland factory. The freight had orders to get to the lay track west of the railroad factory. The passenger train, a broken freight caused six minutes delay. The engineer sent the brakeman ahead to flag the passenger. The freight stopped at the Washington street crossing, but soon followed the freight. There was a heavy fog, making it impossible to see 20 feet ahead.

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Kirmse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport, was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew to wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicine.—Elkader, Iowa, Argus. This remedy never fails. Keep it in your house. It may save life.

The Kingston-Wolf Coal Co., at Mortons Gap, which is opening a new slope mine at that place, is making fine progress and will be ready for shipping coal just as soon as the railroad completes a spur track out to the mines. They are now at work on the track which will be about a half mile long from the main track to the coal mines. The company have a good vein of coal to work and are now busy driving entries.

Presumptive Evidence.

(Atlanta Constitution.) "But—how do you know he went to heaven?"

"Kaze the mule kicked him that way, an' he hain't never come down yit!"

While the work of each of the soloists was deserving of the highest praise, the honors of the evening fell to William Beard, whose fine baritone voice rang out with beautiful tone and his work was artistic throughout. He was compelled to bow his acknowledgments after each one of his solos.—Bloomington (Ill.) "Pantagraph."

PRISONERS ESCAPE

But Are Captured After a Brief Season of Freedom.

A special from Madisonville to the Courier-Journal dated August 4 says:

Two negro prisoners, Garth Thompson and Charlie Caldwell, escaped from the county jail here this afternoon by overpowering Jailor Offutt while he was giving them their supper. They were captured some time later by Sheriff Ashby and deputies in a negro house not far from the jail. Thompson was sentenced to be hanged the last term of Circuit Court for the murder of Jim Brame, August 24, being set as the day of execution. Caldwell was charged with house-breaking.

Cholera Infantum.

This disease has lost its terrors since Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy came into general use. The uniform success which attends the use of this remedy in all cases of bowel complaints in children has made it a favorite wherever its value has become known.

MORTONS GAP NEWS—COLORED.

Our school opened Monday August 3rd with Mrs. Robinson, Steele as principle and Ida B. Sharber as assistant.

It pleases us to inform you through the columns of this paper that this is Mrs. Steele's third year with us and her work as a teacher is far superior to that of any teacher that has ever taught at this place.

There were more parents present than ever before and many encouraging remarks were made by Trustee Wm. Patterson, Richard Brown and Frank Sharber. We only wish there had been more present. After enrollment of pupils and assignment to the various grades, Mrs. Steele spoke on Religion and Morals.

Taken In for the L. & N.

The southern division of the Cumberland and Ohio railroad, extending from Lebanon through the counties of Marion, Taylor and Green to Greensburg, a distance of 31 miles, by order of the Marion Circuit Court, was put up at public auction Monday, Helen Bruce, representing the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, was the only bidder put in, which was $450,000, and it was knocked down to him without any opposition within five minutes. The amount to be raised was $200,000 which was the indebtedness to the Louisville & Nashville.

Foley's Kidney Cure

Will cure Bright's Disease. Will cure Diabetes. Will cure Stone in Bladder. Will cure Kidney and Bladder Disease. Sold by John X. Taylor.

Of the soloists Mr. Beard and Miss Buckley were deserving of the consideration they received. The former has a resonant, sympathetic baritone, which was heard to particular advantage in this particular case. He sings easily, with repose, and his enunciation permits one to get the text without having to guess at it or follow the printed words on the programme.—Chicago American, Nov. 20 '02.

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS

The excursion over the L. & N. to St. Louis, Mo., Saturday night from Evansville was one of the most successful ever run out of that city, there having been sold six-hundred tickets at Evansville, and it is understood that there were 1,485 passengers aboard when the train reached its destination. There were sixteen coaches to the train, which afforded all good accommodations. Representatives of the road also accompanied the excursionists to see to their comfort and safe arrival.

Baker's Hill Engineer G. M. Willis is enjoying a long desired rest at Paris, Tenn.

Thomas Walsh went to St. Louis, Mo., Monday on business.

St. Louis Division Fireman Walter Fretwell has resigned.

Train No. 53 and L. H. & St. L. No. 3 were delayed several minutes at Henderson the other day on account of a box car off the track.

J. F. Timberlake, of Baker's Hill, went to Howell Thursday. Engineers F. S. Harrison and S. R. Hackney are on the sick list.

Train No. 96 was delayed several hours at McLeansboro, Ill., on the evening of the 27th of June on account of engine 962 getting off the track in such a manner that the Howell wrecking crew had to be called to replace it.

Miss Eleanor Baugh, of Montgomery, Ala., is the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Walsh, Howell.

Henry Starks, for a number of years coach carpenter at Howell, has resigned to accept a position in the same capacity with the Texas Pacific Ry. at Marshall, Tex.

Apprentice Will Griffith went to Nashville Sunday to visit his parents.

As the promotion of a class of firemen to engineers necessitates the making of twice that many new fireman—one to fill the place made vacant by the fireman promoted, and one to fill the place created by the new engineer—Mr. Walsh will, to meet these requirements, started the following candidates: J. W. Porter, J. L. Gatewood, Taylor Conway, F. H. Summitt, M. L. Seay, H. C. Hudson and D. W. Brogan.

Fireman J. H. Baker is now trying his luck with the Big Four out of E. St. Louis.

Mrs. A. E. Brown, of Howell, is visiting her parents in Louisville.

Traveling Engineer Dennis E. Kelly, was on the division the first part of the week.

Gordon Atwood, after a few months absence, has returned to his home in Howell. He is a machinist at the shops.

It has just come to light that Forest Selby, a machinist at Howell, was married about a month ago, the bride being Miss Allie Cox, of Evansville. The wedding was planned to be a secret, and proved quite a surprise to their many friends when the secret became known a month later.

Mrs. E. A. Jarrett, of Howell, has left for Denver, Colo., to visit her two daughters, who are residents of that place.

Harry Swower, the late appointed assistant superintendent of machinery, was at Howell shops the latter part of last week.

Conductor Jas. Sparrow had quite an exciting ride last week at Nortonville. He hired a lively stable horse to take some young ladies riding. The horse was balky and persisted in going backwards instead of forwards. After exhausting all his patience and several whips, Jim suggested that the occupants alight and he would devise some means to get him going. It was discovered the horse would lead and Jim lead him slowly while the young ladies got in, then the lines were thrown to and the ladies drove while Jimmie climbed over the back of the surrey.

Business on the Henderson division was never better at this time of the year.

Dispatcher B. B. Corban of Paris attended the Guthrie fair one day.

Engineer Loch Rowe was one of the few who managed to pick the winner at the fair.

A Memphis line brakeman was run over and badly injured at Guthrie Sunday night. We did not learn his name.

Some train Saturday night struck a colored man asleep on the track one mile this side of Guthrie and threw his remains along the track for 200 yards. The coroner was summoned Sunday morning and held an inquest over the remains that could be collected.

Brakeman Geo. Means had two of his ribs broken at Effield Junction one day last week by falling on the end gate of a coal car. He was brought to Earlington and is now getting along nicely.

Wednesday evening, July 22, rectory of the Holy Innocents church, in Evansville, Ind., Mr. Harry A. Connett and Miss Anna E. Horster were pronounced man and wife by the Rev. Edwin Carter. The wedding was private, no invitations having been issued. The groom is a sober and industrious young man who has been connected with the L. & N. at Howell for the past seven years at mechanical draftsman and is well known among railroad men. The bride, daughter of William Horster, a retired merchant of Evansville, is an amiable and accomplished young lady, well known and liked in Evansville society circles.

A GREAT OFFER.

Louisville Times and Weekly Courier. Journal Six Months, and The Bee One Year For Only $2.00.

The Louisville Times and Weekly Courier-Journal are making an unprecedented campaign subscription offer—both papers six months for $1; to separate addresses if desired. As the regular price of The Times for six months is $3 and that of the Weekly Courier-Journal $2, this offer gives $3.50 worth of newspapers for a dollar bill; which ought to put the two papers in every home in Kentucky.

And to show that The Bee can be just as liberal and enterprising, we have joined in the combination and will send The Bee for a year, along with the other two for six months for $2; thus giving $4.50 for $2.00. All three to a different address, as desired. "Now is the time to subscribe." All subscriptions must be sent to this office.

Entrusted

Or taken from the St. Bernard pasture on Sunday, July 5, 1903, one black cow eight years old, white spot in forehead, white stripe across the hips, with bell on ear, marks and swallow fork under bit in both ears. Anyone knowing of such a cow, please address A. N. Davis, at Earlington post office, and get pay for your trouble. 2t.

We want the news that happens here in Earlington and we want our friends to help us obtain it. If you go anywhere, telephone The Bee; if you have a friend visiting you, telephone The Bee; if your neighbor is sick, telephone The Bee; if you know of anyone that has been or is going anywhere, telephone The Bee; no matter what happens, we want to know about it. It may seem trivial to you, when in reality it is a good news item. Don't forget we have a good telephone and are always ready to answer it.

Consumption Threatened.

C. Unger, 211 Maple St., Champaign, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and thought I had consumption. I tried a great many remedies and was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cured me, and I have not been troubled since." For sale by John X. Taylor.

HAPPENINGS IN KENTUCKY.

Mr. Stephen Castleman, a former resident of Larue county, but who had been living near Cairo, Ill., for several years, is thought to have been drowned in the Ohio river about the 5th of July, his family finding it impossible to learn where he is or to recover his body, if drowned, from the river.

Some of the church members of Bowling Green are holding meetings protesting against the proposed establishment of a brewery in that city.

Tilman Whittaker, a young man who formerly lived in Middleboro, was accidentally killed Friday afternoon at Duquesne, Pa., while coupling cars.

The Paducah Sun says: J. Russell, of Sharp, Marshall county, has been discharged from the asylum as cured and is now at his home in Sharp with his people. Over thirteen years ago he attempted to cut a man, and from that time on became worse until he had to be placed in the asylum. He is now perfectly cured and rational on all subjects.

The Litchfield Gazette says: Mr. Hardin Porter, who lives near the falls, sustained considerable loss on a load of stock he was shipping to Louisville on Tuesday last. Mr. Porter had a mixed load of stock, consisting of hogs and sheep. He had what is called a double car, the sheep above and the hogs below, and when about Cecilia Junction the upper floor of the stock car gave way, precipitating the sheep down upon the hogs, killing fifteen fine hogs and twenty-three head of sheep.

The civil engineering department of Ohio State University held its annual camp at Whitesburg, Letcher county, in charge of Prof. C. E. Sherman. A contract was obtained to survey a 2,000 acre coal tract. The camp was broken only a few days ago.

Col. James P. Thompson, the oldest newspaper man in Western Kentucky, but still young in enterprise and public spirit, is preparing to establish a weekly paper in Paducah. He published the old Paducah News for twenty-five years, making it the first distinctive newspaper success in the city's history. Those who are familiar with his past record in journalism are expecting something good when his new venture is under way.

The Bowling Green News says: Richard Scruggs, a respectable and hard-working farmer who lives near Smith's Grove, in this county, has become a raving maniac on account of the ill conduct of his son. He is the father of Ed Scruggs, a young man about twenty-two years old, who is serving a sentence in the city workhouse.

A PRAYER.

BLESSED LORD.

We lift our hearts in grateful praise And thank Thee, God of ancient days, For blessings sent in many ways. And mercy given.

Oh from the narrow path we stray And broke Thy laws so justly laid, But with contrite hearts we pray To be forgiven.

While toiling up life's rugged way We need Thy presence every day, Lest we should falter or delay, O God of Heaven.

Overcome temptations we may meet, Be a lamp unto our feet, Let our love be made complete, Savior of love.

May we not dwell from Thee apart, Let Thy love shine in our heart, And to our lives rich grace impart, Great God above.

And when the time shall come to die, When at last we say good-bye, May we feel Thy presence nigh, In perfect love.

Frank W. Floyd, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and thought I had consumption. I tried a great many remedies and was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cured me, and I have not been troubled since." ## MINING NOTES.

Col. W. W. Smith, who owns the old Bell colliery and some 800 acres of contiguous coal lands near Sturgis, Ky., purchased a large tract of surface last week for the purpose of making a new opening to the coal and building a dummy railway to Tradewater.

One of the worst cases of rebellion and insurrection that has ever existed in the State in the coal mining district is now on at Marquette, Ill., in the Marquette Third Vein Company's mine says Fuel. The trouble is being waged in utter defiance of the National and State organizations of America. The minority is carrying the day against the majority, and although the miners have been ordered back to work both by the state organization and the national organization, they absolutely refuse to do so, and the mine has been idle off and on for the past three weeks.

The trouble originated through the determination of a certain element to retain a check-weighman, who had been deposed by the state organization, because of an ungovernable temper, which he himself admitted that he possessed, and also on the further grounds of incompetency. The check-weighman had several friends in the mine and they decided that he should be reinstated or they would refuse to work. He has not been reinstated and the consequence is that the mine has been idle.

If the organization is unable to properly handle its members it is utterly folly to expect the operators to continue very long in their present course of making bona fide agreements with it, which of late have been violated in a most senseless and unbusinesslike manner.

The case at the Economy mine in the Danville district, where the mine has been idle since April, is a notable case in point. The men have defied their organizations, both state and national and until the defiant element has been expelled from the Miners' Union and miners have been supplied to take their places, work at that particular mine cannot be resumed.

The resulting loss from such labor conditions is great, and should not be borne by an innocent party. As a business organization the Miners' Union should see to it that the operator is reimbursed for his loss. The time is sure to come when the miners' organization will either do this, or when it will cease to exist.

The miners expect the operators to religiously adhere to every agreement made, while apparently some of them here and there retain for themselves the right to do as they please and violate any obligations that may have been entered into. Desperate cases need desperate remedies, and they should be applied with a firm hand regardless of consequences.

Dan Yates rope rider at No. 9 has resigned to accept a position as bar tender at Cates saloon at Madisonville. Andrew Brown has been given the position he formerly held.

Thursday is miners day at the great Hopkins County Fair and the mines at this place and Reincocks will not work in order to give their men an opportunity to attend.

At Crider mines Lynn Drennan accidentally shot and killed his elder brother. One of the boys was only thirteen years old, while the other was about twenty. They had with them a single-barrel shotgun and the smaller boy had the gun and was pointing it at his brother when in some manner it was discharged, the entire load taking effect in the breast of the eldest boy, killing him instantly. The two boys were the only children of a widowed mother.
